Register Today for the Upcoming OMH Virtual Symposium on COVID-19

Registration is now open for Advancing the Response to COVID-19: Sharing Promising Programs and Practices for Racial and Ethnic Minority Communities, a virtual symposium hosted by the U.S Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) Office of Minority Health (OMH) taking place on September 17, 2020. Join us to learn from national, state, tribal and local experts leading these efforts to help public health leaders and community organizations confront the disproportionate impact of the pandemic on racial and ethnic minority populations.
About the Virtual Symposium

By bringing health professionals, community leaders and public policy leaders together, the OMH virtual symposium will foster a meaningful exchange of actionable ideas for responding to the pandemic through the examination of a wide range of topics, including:

- COVID-19 racial and ethnic data and data-informed response
- How health equity can drive state, territorial, and tribal COVID-19 response
- Community-based and culturally appropriate approaches for addressing COVID-19 among racial and ethnic minority populations

Continuing education credit hours (CECH) for professionals who are designated Certified Health Education Specialists (CHES) or Master CHES (MCHES) will be available. If interested in receiving credits, please provide your full name and CHES ID number to virtualsym_CEUs@minorityhealth.hhs.gov.

Keep an eye out for upcoming speaker announcements and more via email and on the virtual symposium webpage and share this event with your network.

---

Learning Community Network

What is a learning community network?

The learning community will support continued networking and peer-to-peer information sharing about state, Tribal, territorial and local approaches, strategies and resources for addressing COVID-19 among racial and ethnic minority communities. Sign up for updates if you are interested in participating in the virtual learning community network.

---

Stay Connected and Join the Conversation
Be sure to register for the virtual symposium and stay up to date by signing up for OMH email updates and following us on Twitter, Facebook, and Instagram using the hashtag #OMHvirtualsymposium.

Follow us on Twitter and like us on Facebook @MinorityHealth to learn more about our resources, healthcare tips, conferences, events and more.

Did you get this email as a forward? Sign up to receive updates from the Office of Minority Health.

Call the Office of Minority Health Resource Center at 800-444-6472 to speak with an Information Specialist in English or Spanish.

GovDelivery, Inc. sending on behalf of Office of Minority Health · 1101 Wootton Parkway, Suite 100, Rockville, MD 20852 · 1 800-444-6472